-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3, 6-8, 10, 11, 16-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Turner (United States Patent No. 4,564,035).

Turner discloses a device comprising a main body 44; a retractable member 42 movably mounted on a first end of the main body; a rotation member 40 rotatably mounted n the main body and having a first end engaged with the retractable member to move the retractable member axially relative to the main body; and a control member 53 rotatably mounted on a second end of the main body an engaged with a second end of the rotation member. The first end of the main body is formed with a first tube having an inner wall with a square hole 45 and the retractable member has a first end formed with a square bar movably mounted in the square hole of the main body. The second end of the main body is formed with a second tube 50.

Claims 1, 2, 6 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bowling et al. (United States Patent No. 1,623,231).

Bowling et al. disclose a device comprising a main body 1; a retractable member 13 movably mounted on a first end of the main body; a rotation member 11 rotatably mounted n the main body and having a first end engaged with the retractable member to move the retractable member axially relative to the main body; and a control member 10 rotatably mounted on a second end of the main body an engaged with a second end of the rotation member. The main body includes a cutter 4.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Turner.

Turner discloses the invention essentially as claimed except for the retractable member being formed with a threaded rod 41 and the first end of the rotation member being formed with a screw bore. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to form the retractable member with a screw bore and the first end of the rotation member formed with a threaded rod instead of the retractable member being formed with a threaded rod and the first end of the rotation member being formed with a screw bore, since it has been held that mere reversal of parts is within the level of one skilled in the art.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 5, 9, 12, 14, and 15 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

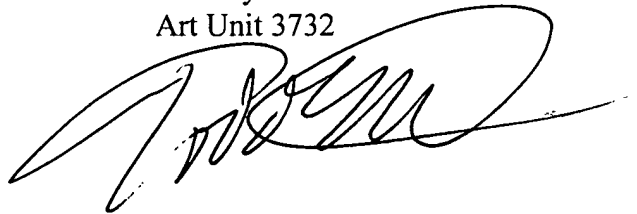

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
